August 2010

NOTE: Entry Intent Deadline September 3, 2010

Dear Secondary School Theatre Teacher:

On behalf of the South Carolina Theatre Association, I want to take this opportunity to invite you and your students to participate in the annual Secondary School Theatre Festival which will be held in conjunction with the SCTA Convention, November 12-14, 2010 at Converse College in Spartanburg, South Carolina. All schools participating will receive individual trophies, and the productions and actors will be eligible for numerous awards. The adjudicators will select the first, second, and third place productions, and the first and second place productions will represent South Carolina at the SETC Festival in Atlanta, GA in March of 2011. The Southeastern Theatre Conference, of which SCTA is an affiliate, is the largest theatre organization in the United States and offers teachers and students four full days of invaluable workshops, master classes, performances, college auditions, scholarships and opportunities for networking.
